

More Morsels:

Gourmet gift ideas for Mother's Day

By Carolyn Jung

Mercury News

Still scratching your head about what to get dear ol' Mom this Mother's Day? Here are three possibilities:

- Head to the May 6 Annieglass annual Mother's Day Sale fundraiser for the Jacob's Heart Children's Cancer Association to pick up a deal on exquisite handcrafted sculptural glass dinnerware, servingware and accessories. Select patterns will be 50 to 70 percent off. A portion of proceeds from sales will benefit the children's cancer charity. Over the past five years, this sale has raised nearly $55,000 for Jacob's Heart.

The sale will take place at the Annieglass warehouse, 310 Harvest Drive in Watsonville, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. For information, call (831) 761-2041, extension 10.

- Or present a nice bottle of wine with a personalized label designed just for Mom. Hayward's Signature Wines online retailer lets you pick your own label, then customize a message that's placed on a bottle of wine of your choosing. Kendall-Jackson, Honig and Clos du Bois are among the wines available.

There's a minimum order of two bottles, with the wines starting at $15 a bottle. For more information, go to www.signaturewines.com or call (888) 968-7946.

- Or choose a dessert sauce with the cute name of Somebody's Mother's Chocolate Sauce. Made in Houston from a family recipe, it tastes like fudge in a jar. Each jar features a lid sticker emblazoned with one of seven quotes from famous mothers or mothers of famous people. A $9 jar is available at <http://somebodysmothers.com> or by calling (713) 805-8804.

Contact Carolyn Jung at cjung@mercurynews.com or (408) 920-5451. Fax (408) 271-3786.