

Pregnancy & Parenting

Bookmark this page

Stuff We Love: Mother's Day

by Laurie McLaughlin

Whether you're trolling for ideas for your personal wish list or looking to celebrate other great mothers in your life, here are five mom-friendly finds for our favorite holiday.

Somebody's a chocoholic

Can you say "cravings"? A sweet addition to a Mother's Day gift basket -- or a sweet treat for a mom-to-be -- this chocolate sauce is brewed by a Texas mom with a secret family recipe. With no additives or preservatives, this thick topping is a satisfyingly rich blend of milk and dark chocolate. It's exactly the kind of gift you wouldn't buy yourself, so it's perfect for an expectant or choco-loving pal. If you weren't craving it before, you will be now -- and this is definitely a sauce that satisfies. Somebody's Mother's Chocolate Sauce, $9 at SomebodysMothers.com.

<http://parenting.ivillage.com/products/0,,92n44dkz-4,00.html>